Voting is slightly different in every state. Generally, it’s easier to vote by mail than ever before and, in many states, restrictions are being relaxed. In some states, they’re sending ballot request forms or ballots to all registered voters. Voting by mail and an absentee ballot is legally the same.

- Request a vote by mail ballot at Vote.org/absentee-ballot
- Check your state deadlines at Vote.org/absentee-ballot-deadlines

Colorado, Hawaii, Oregon, Utah, and Washington are vote-by-mail only states. Be sure to register and stay informed about your state’s deadlines and ballot drop-off dates.

Be sure to bring a valid ID with you to the polls. Most states require some form of voter identification with your name and address.

Vote.org lists the ID requirements for each state. Below are examples of accepted forms of ID for voting (be sure to check your state requirements):

- A current state issued ID card with a photo like a driver’s license
- In some states, an official tribal identification card with a physical address (identification requirements vary by state)
- A valid U.S. Passport
- A utility bill showing your name and address (this also varies by state)
- A military ID card
- A Social Security card

It is very important to check your state’s voter ID laws before Election Day. Some states have very strict voter ID laws.

- Visit the National Congress of State Legislatures website at ncsl.org/research/elections-and-campaigns/voter-id for more information on voter ID requirements.
- Another resource for checking state voter ID laws is your local election office. Look up your election official and state voting requirements at OverseasVoteFoundation.org/vote/eod.htm.
